

THE ECONOMIC IMPACT OF Belle Glade State Municipal Airport (X10)

Aviation's Benefit for Florida

Florida's economic well-being is intrinsically entwined with its vibrant airport system and its robust aviation industry. The aviation system in Florida allows the state to capitalize on an increasingly global marketplace. Aviation in Florida both sustains and leads economic growth and development. Airports in Florida are important economic engines, and support vital health, welfare, emergency, and safety-related services.

Florida's system of commercial service and general aviation airports are important to businesses throughout the state. Air travel is essential to tourism, Florida's number one industry. Protecting and investing in airports throughout Florida will support the aviation industry and the economic benefits described in this report. With continued support, Florida's dynamic aviation system will continue to provide a significant economic return in the years to come.

Belle Glade State Municipal Airport

Located in Palm Beach County, approximately one mile east of Belle Glade, Belle Glade State Municipal Airport serves the general aviation needs of the local community. With its single 3,750-foot runway, the airport primarily accommodates small multi-engine and single-engine general aviation aircraft.

Aside from the City of Belle Glade, which manages the airport, there are four on-site tenants, all of which are aerial application businesses. Agricultural spraying services provided by these businesses comprise most of the airport's annual operations. Flight training and recreational flying represent a small percentage of the airport's activity. All of Belle Glade Municipal's tenants and flight activities are important to the airport's revenue streams and economic impact.

The annual economic impact of Belle Glade State Municipal Airport is associated with direct impacts that come from tenants/businesses located at the airport and construction projects that are undertaken by the airport or by on-site businesses. Indirect impacts are associated with spending from visitors who arrive in the area via general aviation aircraft.
