

THE ECONOMIC IMPACT OF

Indiantown Airport (X58)

Aviation's Benefit for Florida

Florida's economic well-being is intrinsically entwined with its vibrant airport system and its robust aviation industry. The aviation system in Florida allows the state to capitalize on an increasingly global marketplace. Aviation in Florida both sustains and leads economic growth and development. Airports in Florida are important economic engines, and support vital health, welfare, emergency, and safety-related services.

Florida's system of commercial service and general aviation airports are important to businesses throughout the state. Air travel is essential to tourism, Florida's number one industry. Protecting and investing in airports throughout Florida will support the aviation industry and the economic benefits described in this report. With continued support, Florida's dynamic aviation system will continue to provide a significant economic return in the years to come.

Indiantown Airport

Located in Martin County, approximately two miles northeast of Indiantown, Indiantown Airport serves the general aviation needs of the local community. With its single 6,300-foot turf runway, the airport can accommodate small multi-engine general aviation aircraft.

Indiantown Airport's major tenants include Gilberti, Inc., an aircraft ground service equipment manufacturer; Howe Brothers Enterprises, an aerial application company; and Tropic Air Power, an aircraft maintenance business. Other tenants include Dylan Aviation, which provides flight instruction; Copa Air Maintenance and D.G. Aircraft Services, which provide aircraft maintenance and repairs; and Fighter Enterprises, a warbird restoration and maintenance facility. In addition to supporting local recreational and flight training activity, the airport supports some corporate/business and agricultural operations. All of the airport's tenants and flight activities are important to the airport's revenue streams and to the airport's economic impact.

The annual economic impact of Indiantown Airport is associated with direct impacts that come from tenants/businesses located at the airport and construction projects that are undertaken by the airport or by on-site businesses. Indirect impacts are associated with spending from visitors who arrive in the area via general aviation aircraft.
